Investments do not guarantee a return, the value and the income from them can fall as well as rise. You may not realise the amount originally invested. Where an investment is denominated in a currency other than sterling, changes in exchange rates between currencies may cause the value of investments to go up or down. Past performance should not be seen as an indication of future results. The levels of taxation depend on individual circumstances of the investor and the law, and the value of tax reliefs are those which currently apply.
